

THE LUCK OF ROARING (AMP," "MARUJA;"
[ALES OF THE ARGONAUTS," IN THE QUARQUINEZ WADS,"ER CORNAIGNED BY THE OUTHOR, 1888. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED, WRITTEN FOR THE GAZETTE.

warping pistol shot in the direction of the Harrison-McKinstry boundaries, the more business part of Indian Spring was overtaken by one of these spasms of en terprise peculiar to all Californian mining settlements. The opening of Eureka ditch and the (xtension of stage-coach communication from Big Bluff were events of no small importance, and were celebrated on the same day. The double occasion overtaxing oven the figent rheto-ric of the adisor of the "Star" left nim the metaphorical difficulties of a Pactolian spring, which he had rachly turned into the Ditch, and obliged him to transfer the operous duty of writing the editorial on the Big Bluff Extension to the bands of the Hon. Abner Dean, assembly-man from Angel's The loss of the Hon. Mr Dean's right eye in an early ploneer fraces, did not prevent him from looking into the dim vista of the future and discovering with that single unaided optic enough to fill three columns of the "Star." "It is not too extravagant to say," he remarked with charming deprecation, "that Indian Spring, through its own perfectly organized system of inland transportation, the confidence of its North with the Sacramento riv and their combined efficience into the illimitable Pacific, is thus put not only into direct communi-CHAPTER VI. cation with far Cathay, but even remoter Antipodean markets. The citizen of Indian Spring taking the 9 s. m. Proneer small boy who once or twice even crossed their path with affected timidity, they coach and arriving at Big Bluff at 2:40 is enabled to connect with the through ex-press to S cramento the same evening, reaching Sau Francisco per the Steam Navigation Company's palatial steamers in time to take the Pacific Mail steamer to Yokohoma on the following day at 3:50 p. m." Although no citizen of In-dian Spring appeared to avail himself of this admirable opportunity, nor did it appear at all likely that any would, everybody vaguely felt that an inestimable boon lay in the suggestion, and even the master professionally entrusting the reading aloud of the editorial house in the clearing as it was to the gilded exicon in the main street.

And so the momentous day arrived, with its two new coacnes from Big Bluff containing the especially invited speakers-always specially invited to those occasions, and yet strangely enough dever before feeling the extreme "importance and privilege" of it as they did then to give a faucy price, that's your look out." the strains of a brass band, the hoisting of a new flar on the liberty pole, and later the ceremony of the Ditch opening, when a distinguished speaker in a most nuworkmanishe tall hat, black fronk cost and white cravat, which gave him the general air of a festive grave eigger, took om the hands of an apparently was wasting his time on a man who chief mourner and threw couldn't even spell "ba-ker," and who a spade from the hands of an apparently out the first sods. There were anvils, brass bands, and a "collation" at the hotel. But everywhere -averriding the most extravagant expretation and even the laughter is pro- your buying the title to the land don't voked the spirit of indominable youth give you possession. You'll have to fight and resistings enterprise intoxicated the these agasters and jumpers just the It was the spirit that had made Cal- same. I dil be three instead of two fightifornia possible; that had sown a thou ing-that's all!"
sand such ventores broadcast through its Uccle Ben's imbodile reply did not wilderness; that had enabled the sower trouble Johnny. He had earn now only to stand not financiously among his scant for the superior intellect before him. It or rulned bary eas without fear and with- continued coolly. out replaine and ture his undaunted and before its eyes the abandoned trenches me here-and I suppose you went this and rained outworks of its early pioneere? I thing still kept a secret. I don't see how What mattered that the elo- you've managed to do it so far. Is your quent culculet of the Euroba Bitch claim near? You live on it, I think you that the elo- you've managed to do it so far. Is your had but a few years before as spic?" prodigally scattered his adjectives and his But that the little Hatener was so prefortune on the assess tunnel that con- occupied with the stranger, this sugfronted him on the opposite side of the gestion of Uncle Bed's having a cisim river? The sublime forgetfulness of youth worth the attention of that disguored its warning or recognized it as a tinguished presence would have set The master, frosh from his little him chinking; the little that be underflock and prematusely aged by their con- stood he set down to Uscle Ben's tact, felt a stirring of something like envy "gassin"." As the two men moved foras he wandered among these scarcely ward egain, he followed them until Unolder enthusiasta.

day to Johany Figure, not only for the rough boulders, half burnowing in one of delightfully bewildering clamor of the the largest mounds of earth and gravel, brass band, in which, between the trom- which had once represented the tailings bone and the bass drum he had got or reinse of the abandoned addian Springs inentification the rall-frightening exmixed; not only for Placer. In fact it was cescally alleged explosions of by some that U wie Ben eked out the maddening scauty "grub wages" email of the garpowder which had exalted his falsat coul to stiden and irrele- the tailings at odd times-c degrading want whoopings, but for a single occurrence that whethed his always keen per. Chinese, and anworthy the ceptions. Hatting bean shamelessly casion embition. The mising code abandened on the verandah of the Eureka of honor held that a man might rotel while has brother Rupert paid the smallest results of his daily labor, as bashful court to the pretty proprietress long as he was sustained by the prospect by essisting her in her duties, Johnny of a larger "strike," but condemned his gave himself up to unlimited observation: contentment with a modest certainty. the gosettes of the six horses, the new Nevertheless a little of this suspicion enhavness, the length of the driver's whip- compassed his dwelling and contributed his chormous buckskin gloves, to its loneliness, even as a long disch, the tue way he held his former tail race of the claim, separated reits; the fascinating odor of shin- him from his neighbors. Prudently haltcoach, ling at the edge of the wood. Johang saw the the gold-headed cane of the Honorable his resplendent vision cross the strip of Abner Dean; all these were stored away barren fist, and enter the cabin with in the secret recesses of Johnny's mem- Uncle Ben like any other mortal. He sat ory, even as the unconsidered trifles he down on a stump and waited its return, picked up on route were distending which he foully hoped might be slone! his capacious pockets. But when a young At the end of half an hou, he made a man had slighted from the second or short excursion to examine the con-" coach among the real passengers dition of a blackberry bramble, and and strolled carelessly and easily in the returned to his post of observation. But veranda as if the novelty and the occa- there was neither sound nor motion in from his mind. gion were nothing to him, Johnny, with the direction of the cabin. When another a gulp of satisfaction, knew that he had tee minutes had elapsed, the door opened seen a prince! Beautifully dressed in a and to Johnny's intense discomfiture white duck suit, with a diamond ring Uncle Ben appeared alone and walked overcome by a repletion of excitement on his finger, a gold chain swinging leisurely towards the woods. Burning and collation, was asleep on the single from his fob, and a Panama hat with a with sexlety, Johnny threw himself in arm chair. Their presence was not unbroad black ribbon jauntly resting on his | Uncle Ben's way. But here occurred i usual, as Mr. Ford, touched by the lone.

turned his small gray eyes upon him in a over his books and illustrated papers. half astonished, half questioning manner, wwell?" he said cheerfully. the potent spirit of calldish secretiveness ment before was on his lins. "Hullo, Johnny! What are ye doin' bere?" said Uacle Ben kindly

"Nothin" " After a pause, in which he walked all round Uacle Ben's large fig-ure, gazing up at him as if he were a monument, he added: "Huntin' blackerrieth.'

Why sin't you over at the collation?" "Ruperth there," he answered prompt-

The idea of being thus vicariously present in the person of his brother, seemed a sufficient excuse. He lespfrogged over the stump on which he had been sitting as an easy unembarrassing pause for the next question. But Uncle Ben was apparently perfectly estisfied cented. Only for a moment; the dark with Johnny's reply, and nodding to him, eyes clouded again it walked away. When his figure and disappeared in the curled and scented hair, Johnny's eyes bushes, Johnny cautiously approached had rever rested on a more resplendent the cabin. At a certain distance he vision. He was more romantic team picked up a stone and threw it against Yuba Bill, more imposing and less impos-sible than the Honorable Abner Dean, and the friendly copse again. No one spmore eloquent than the master-far more | pearing, he repeated the experiment twice besut ful than any colored print that he and even thrice with a larger stone and had ever seen. Had he brushed him in at a nearer distance. Than he boldly passing Johnny would have felt a thrill; skirted the cabin and dropped into the passing Johnny would have felt a thrill:

had he spoken to him he knew he would have been speech less to reply. Judge then of his utter stupefaction when he saw Uncle Bec—actually Uncle Ben!—approach this paragon of perfection, albeit with some emparassment, and after a word or two of unjutelligible conversation walk away with him! Need it he wondered the respect the hotel almost the first sign). of unfatelligible conversation walk away Johnny, and he ran away. When he me down to sleep' him, and tuck him up; that President Smith of the chamber of with him! Need it be wondered that reached the hotel almost the first sight and Dad all the while 'scooting round commerce, Samuel Sloap, Russell Sage. Johnny, forgetful at once of his brother, that met his accounted eyes, was the the horses, and even the collation with its spectacle of the paragon, ap arently still Possible "goodles," instantly followed.

The two men turned into the side street, which after a few hundred yards with a freeh companion.

opened upon the deserted mining firt, Meantime Mr. Ford, bowever, touched opened upon the deserted mining int, meaning ering whenever he came within the range and the disquence of speakers below, and streck and its probable of their eyes in that sidelong, spasmodic and become radelent of guspowder and fashion peculiar champagne exploded around it, he deter "I thought we taked a to small boys, but ready at any moment mined to return to the schoolhouse and time sgo, Rope. In a few months you'll election. to assume after unconscioueness and the avail bimself of its woodland quiet to be able to leave school, and I'll advise. This st ppearance of going somewhere else or of write a few letters.

ecarching for something on the ground.

In this way appearing, if noticed at all, murmur of the excited settlement came Is this way appearing, it noticed as all, each time in some different position to only as the soothing sound of wird among the right or left of them, Johnny followed term to the fringe of woodland lowed term to the fringe of woodland filled every cranny of the quiet schoolwhich enabled him to draw closer to room and seemed to disperse all taint of human tenancy, made the tar off at home "celebrations as unreal as a dream. The "And I Utterly oblivious of this artistic "shad- only reality of his life was here owing" in the insignificant person of the He took from his pocket a few letters one which was worn and soiled with fre-quent handling. He re-read it in a half methodical, half patient way, as if he continued an apparently confident at pre-vious interview. The words "stocks" and "shares" were alone intelligible were waiting for some revelation it inspired, which was slow that afternoon in Johnny had heard them during the day, coming. At other times it called up a youtaful enthusizem which was wont to Ben seemed to be seeking information transfigure his grave and prematurely from the paragon and was perfectly sub-missive and humble. But the boy was considerably mystified when after a tramp reserved face with a new expression. To-day the revelation and expression were both wanting. He put the letter sick with a slight eigh, that sounded so of half an hour they arrived upon the de batable ground of the Harrison-McKinproposterous in that silent room, that he boundary. Having been es-warned never to go Johnny as a matter of could not forgo an emparrassed smile But the next moment he set himself seriously to work on his correspondence.

but he was struck by the fact that Uncle

with it. Unfortunately, as he was mak

To Johnny's already prejudiced mind, submissively, as he ought, out neverthe-less he muttered something "silly" in re-guated to listen to. Ought he not to ster

"And of course you know that merely

The paragon continued.

cle Ben's house was reached.

work hitherto

It was a rude ebanty of boards and actual criming, in reworking and mifting

he made by another letter.

practiced only

which Johnny was really too disdain that so well became him, said:

ccisily

brother?

bree was perfectly familiar with But what was the incomprehensible nify the danger, with percaps a slight allusion to his own fearless familiarity undergrowth were rising. It certainly was a perfume. He rated his eyes. There ing up his small mind behind a tree, the lay the cause on the desk before him-a on surned and, with the easy disencircling a rosebud which had escaped "Well, I wouldn't offer a dollar an acre his notice. There was nothing unusual in the circumstance. The children were in the for the whole ranche. But if you choose habit of making their offerings generally without particula: reference to time or occasion, and it might have seen over-Incle B n received this just contempt ocked by him during school hours. felt a pity for the forgotten posy already beginning to grow limp in its neglected solitude. He remembered that in some folk lore of the collidren's, perhaps a traforward and inform the paragon that he dition of the old association of the myrtle with Venus, it was believed to be emplematic of the effections. He remembered was taught his latters by his, Johnny's also that he had even told them of this probable origin of their supertition. He was still helding it in his cand when he was conscious of a silk-n sensation that sens a magnetic thrill through his flagers. Looking at it more closely he saw that the sprigs were bound together, not by thread or ribbor, but by long if aments of brown hair tightly wound around them. He unwound a single bair and held it to the light. Its length, color, tecture, and shove all a certain in-"Now let's take a look at that yield of her person. and thinking about it From the position | said in which it had been placed it was evi-dently intended for ning the fency of plading it with pair was also intentional and not a necessity, as he knew his feminine scholars were usually well provided with olis of thr ad, sik or ribbon, If it had been some new absurdity of childish fashion introduced in the would have noticed it ere this. For it was this obtrusion of a personality that asguely troubled him. He rememground, and was surprised to flud what a vivid picture he reteined of her lingering n the porch to put it up; her rounded arms held above her head, her pretty But with a gentleman's delicacy he turned sims held soove her head, her protty but with a gentleman's delicity neturined fresheat attour any desired to the mand special attention to them, yet in shoulders, full throat, and glowing atmost instantly into a side street, as if the re-eligibility of the president has you have all other acts in violation of the pine-branch before the window, thrown the kept steadily on, the woman's kiss, in modified to this extent is simply that that class of offenders, too, may be duly by the nearly level and perses his paper, the fancy of the foolish boy shining on great reforms are taken up slowly after indicted and published. had begun to slowly reache the opposite well foreher wall. He put his work away, lingered the a star. for a moment in healtation over the myrtle sprays, and then look desk with an odd feet them a secured in some vague way bold to a Cressy's future vague's; their reflecting that Cocle Ben, which he seen in town, would probably keep holiday with the there, he resolved to wait no longer, but strolled back to the hotel. The act, how had not recalled Uncle Ben ever. to him by any association of ideas, for since his discovery of Johnny Filgee's caricature he had falled to detect anything to corroborate the caricaturist's satire, and had dismissed the subject

On entering his room at the hotel he found Rapert Riigee standing moodily by the window, while his brother Johnny, and collation, was asleep on the single | issue headed as above.

one of those surprising inconsistencies liness of these motheriess boys, had often known only to children. As Uncle Ben invited them to come to his rooms to look Rapert did not reply or change his posuddenly took possession of the boy. sition. Mr. Ford, glancing at him sharp-wild horses could not now have torn ily, saw a familiar angry light in the boy's from him that question which only a mo- beautiful eyes, slightly dimmed by a tear. Laying his hand gently on Rupert's shoul-der, he said: "What's the matter, Rupert?"

his eyes still dred on the pane.
"Har—has—Mis. Tripp" (the fair pro-prietres.) "been unkind?" he went on lightly.

No reply.

"You know, Rape," continued Mr.
Ford, demurely, "she must show some reserve before company—like to day. It won't do to make a scandal."

Report maintained an indignant silence But the dimple (which he usually de spised as a feminine blot) on the cheek nearer the master became slightly ac-

"I wish I was dead, Mr. Ford." "Hallo!"

"O:-doin' suthin'." "That's better. What do you want to toten' wood and water at home; quit toten' wood and water at home; quit toten' wood and makin' beds like a yaller Chinaman; quit nussin' bables and dressin' 'em and undressin' 'em ilke a girl. Look at him now," pointing to the sweetly unconscious Johnny, "look at him 'here. Do you know what that means? It means I've get to pask that means? It means I've get to pask that means? gress' and the 'future of Injin Spring.' Sidney Dillon, William C S. urges, Fran-Much future we've got over our own cle B. Thurber, John Cleffin and repre-

"I thought we talked all that over some your father about putting you into some thing to give you a chance for yourself. Patience, old fellow; you're doing very well. Consider-there's your pupil, Uncle Ben."

"Ob, yes! That's another big baby to tot round in school when I ain't niggerin' me in ther express offices or banks-and railway company to-day. in a year or two they're as good ex any. ACTION OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE body and get paid as big Why, there Business men hail the movement with was a fellow here, just now, no older than you, Mr. Ford, and not helf your learnin', and he dressed to death with juvelry, and everybody bowin' and ecrapin' to him, that it was perfectly schemic.'

was decliring and the fresh offors of the here pointed out the defectiveness of Ru- for facts, say that their agents have come pert's logic and the beneficence of pa- back after months of effort to sur up little nosegay of wild California myrtle addition of a certain fellow sympathy and to try until the election was over. Great some amusing racital of his own boyleh mills and factories have been closed in to depart, approached his sleeplag much absorbed in politics to devote their have had the effect of transforming him terprise has been checked and industry into an inert jally like mass. It required halted. e joint exertions of both the master to latter's arms, where, with a single imp elbow encircling his brother's neck, to isy with his upflaished slumber still islibly distending his cheeks, his cyclids, and even lifting his curle from his moiet forehead. The master bade Rupert 'good night" and returned to his room es the boy descended the stairs with his barden. But here Providence, with, I fear, its guished occasional disregard of mere human most raidy, rewarded Rupert after his own so by foot of the stairs es Rupert came slowly down. He saw her, and was covered Explicable instinct, told nim it was Crossy with shame; she saw nim and his burden, and Kinstry's He isld it down quickly, as with chame; she saw nim and his burden, ever-hopeful form to further fields. What yours I haven't much time to give you, if he had in that not familiarly touched with kincliness. Whether mathered it take ladies Spring had always as I expect some men to be looking for new negative. ware of Repert's admiration, and was He finished his letter, out presently not sitegather displessed with it, I tass president ineligible for a sefound himself again looking at the myrtle in t say. In a voice that the lifed him, she could term. This is urged on the ere to-night." It was a great temptation, but Rupert ad strength to refuse, albeit with his hat illed over his downcast eyes."

> "What! Rupert, are you going so spon?" "Yes, ma'am-ou account of Johnny."

"Poor dear, how tired he looks." cretty face close to Rupert and laid her of the people. To this necessity for makbered Cressy's hair; it was certainly very lips on Johnny's cheek. Then she lifted leg the presidency a "one-term-only" beautiful, in spite of her occasional value and acious eyes to his brother and office several presidents have called the garles of confidre. He recelled how, one pushing back his well-worn c in hat from attention of congress and the country. garles of confidre. He receiled now, one pushing cack his well-word of plantifold stress upon it, and is equally referenced, it had come down when she his clustering curls she klased him square. Tilden laid stress upon it, and is equally restricted by the Option of the play of the play of the play of the play of the play.

hair between her white teeth! He began | tulgar eyez. The path he had chosen | never been a party question. Those who forehead and lighting him ofward

Stockmen of Arlzons who are preparing peef for the markets of California are taking advantage of the excellent alfalfa crops the Arizona lands are capable of producing; and now the stockmin who has a big field of succulent fodder considers himself in big luck, for there is a big demand for them, the number of cattle bsing fattened there this year being much greater than ever before.

Get Up a Club. Read the low clubbing rates offered in THE GAZETTE'S advertisement n this

Subscribe for the Weekly GAZETTE,

SIX YEARS.

Unhiversal Outcry for a Longer Term for the President and One Term Only.

"Nothin"," said the boy doggodly, with Copying After the Confederate States Constitution with Reference to the Presidential Term of Six Years.

> Losses Indicted Upon Every Four Years Through Apprehension and Distraction. Hundreds of Millions Wested.

New York Herald. The one great sensation that was in everybody's mouth yesterday was the proposal to extend the president's term of office, to which the Herald devoted an entire page.

Men who had been for months complaining that the apprehension and excitement brought on by the great national 'Fo work-make a livin' myself. Quit struggle ruined business with one accord

Workmen who had been on short hours that means? It means I've got to pack or idle altogether during a great part of him home through the town jist ez he is the presidential campaign, and who wonthar, and then make a dre and bile his dered if it was not time to make these food for him, and wash him and undress gigantic political contests less frequent and put him to bed, and Now 1 lay were assemished to read in the Heraid and Dad all the while 'scooting round commerce, Samuel Sloar, Russell Sage, town with other idjits, jawin' about 'pro-George C. Williams, Henry H. Hoguet, house, Mr. Ford. Much future he's got sentative men in every branch of com merce and finance, without remard to poll merce and finance, without regard to poli The master, to whom those occasional tice, were also in favor of the change.

attack and its probable relations to the term of the executive should be made longer, and that no citizen who has held the office once should be eligible for a re-

This seemed to be the almost unani-mous view taken of the great question yesterday. That the fathers of the republic, the framers of the constitu ion, hesitated between a six year term and a geven year term for a long time-months in factwas shown by the summary of the debate in the Federal convention of 1787 which the Herald gave in its big story. And "And I don't see exactly what else you that even these wise men could not fore-could do at Indian Spring," continued see the tremendous cost to the country of a national election was indicated by the "No," said Rupert gloomily, "but I fact that the entire internal commerce of could get away to Steramento. Yuba the United States at that time was not Bell says they take boys no bigger nor equal to the gross earnings of a single

Business men hall the movement with

Mr. Ford lifted his eyebrows. "Oh, stiendart excitement and the frequent change of governmental policy resulting the stid.

Co., who was talking to Mrs. Tripp?" he said. fores with the business of the country. "Resolved, that in the opinion of the ience and study, as became their rela- trade during the presidential canvass ions of master and pupil, but with the only to report that it was almost useless xperiences, that had the effect of calling every state in the Union, partly through Rapert's dimples into action again. At apprehension as to the result of the conthe end of half an hour the boy had be- t at and partly through the duliness of a come quite tractable, and, getting ready period when business men became too protter with something like resigna- time to trade. Values of all kinds have But Johnny's rap seemed to fallen and in some cases collapsed.

How could it be otherwise, when thouand Expert to transfer him bodily into sands of orators were scattered all over the republic mouthing dreadful predices of the disaster and rule that would overlane the country if officer party got ato power?

sterm coming and so simply sat down Meantime everything relating to manu facture, trade or transportation lan-

And the cost of the election in this way, so business men estimate, was 8500,000, ONE TERM ONLY

But this general outery from comnerce, capital and labor althe is not simoly for an extension of the president's rm slone. It is also for a provision in the constitution that shall make the ground that it would take the executive of the nation out of the clutches of machice politicians, to whom he must now defer if he desires a secend term. It is "But let me take him-I can keep him | said that the present system, with its pander to temporary moods of the masses, whatever upon the result of any such brought on by appeals to bigotry, race haired and passion, results in a vacilla- | $25 tor more than $1000." [Art. 371 ting, unreliable national policy which P. C She approached her still fresh and seriously interferes with the prosperity "Good night, dear" is the present system of re-The boy stumbled, and then staggered eligibility. President Coveland scientifiedly forward into the outer darkness. ly declared it to be a national danger.

President Arthur also desired to see a was rough and weary, the night was dark, have studied the matter say that the only fully and thoroughly inquired lete, so the nearly leave the prolonged discussion, and that there has never been a vigorous agitation of the present emestion.

> ALL BEEN TO AGREE ON SIX YEARS. Together of fority of those who have pose of inducing him to pursuade, or by the fatervalues by the Herald say that means not amounting to bribary to prosix years would be asufficiently long term cure persons to vote at the election for or for the executive. In the convention against any cardidate, or who shall have which adopted the tion every one forming the original republic except or defeat of any particular candidate, is Delaware voted for a six year term. Even subject to indictment and conviction for day in arrear. The sailors were com-Gouverneur Morris, the staunch and an- violation of the provisions of said chap- pletely ignorant of this, and finding, on compromising champion of frequent elec- ter. tions, voted for six ve-rs.

So that the present general demand for a six year term is simply an expression of observious to good government, inimical what was for a time the almost unant-mous opinion of the grave and wise tions, with the hope that you will use statesmen who made the constitution. special diligence in having all parties in-Then the whole internal commerce of the dicted and punished who have indulged country amounted to what is estimated in acts constituting the offenses referred roughly at $20,000,000. Now the internal to. Very respectfully, your obedient commerce of the nation is variously estimated by the nighest authorities at from of a powerful Alterative, such as Ayer's used, according to the gravity of the dis-Sarsaparilla. By no other treatment case, always proves efficacious, "For with the most satisfactory am convinced that Ayer's Sars is the best possible blood-medi John W. Starr, Laconia, Iowa. "I was troubled with

The Only Cure | For Scrofula,

CATARRH

for over two years. I tried various the remedies, and was treated by a number, the of physicians, but received no bounds. until I began to take Ayer's Se rilla. A few bottles of this the cured me of this troublesome comp

Jesse M. Boggs, Holmer's Mills, Albemarle, N. C.

Charles G. Ernbert, Vasa, Minn, writes: "I hereby of that I have used Ayer's Sarsapard la, with excellent success, for a cancel human or after using this remediathe sore healed. I believe that the disease is entirely cured, and consider can the poison of Scrofula, Camer, and the host ten years I have begin seriously Catarrib be so theroughly eradicated from the system.

"For many years I was troubled with Scrofulous Complaints. Hearing Ayer's Sarsiparilla very highly recommended. I decided to try it, and have some so with the most sarisfactory results. I decided to try it, and have some so with the most sarisfactory results. I may be supported to the age of the sarisfactory results. I may be supported to the sarisfactory results. I may be supported to the sarisfactory results. I may be supported to the same supported to so greatest medical discovery of the age."

I ha — Charles Tolonson, Waubeek, Iowa. Geo. Apprews, overseer of the Lowell Carpet acorporation, was so afflicted is entirely cured by this remedy My daughter was greatly troubled with Scrolola, and, at one time, it wanteared she would lose her sight. Sarsaparilla has completel her health, and her eyes a strong as ever, with crofula in her system.

SALT-RHEUM

fa, with excellent humor, or, as it humor, or, as it my lip. Shortly additional sufferer. Likely my lungs have been affected, causing much pain and disadisease is entirely affected, causing much pain and disadisease is entirely affected.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Price S1; six bottles, $5. Worth S5 a bottle.

An engine, thinking Opice's Windmill, a Pump Belting, Hose, Iron-Blie, all need mailings a recedence or Grinder, a Theoretical Engine of Steam Machinery.

Write Us for Process A Will Save Money.

A chales given on ranch or farm water subjected its. State agents for manufacturers ranched prices quoted. Address, he Panhandle Machinery and Improvement Co., Branchatt Colorado ex. Fort v och Tex.

ENTH GRANITE HOUSING COMPANY rior the best and cheapest room ever sold in the state case year your well not run or crack all not contract or expended to the state of the state o Office and Pastery, Corner Flevenin and Rusk Streets.

and WORLD M'F'G CO. 122 Nassau Street, New York syllab.e-words, was somewhat affected by a somewhat affected by I. Johney Fines and Jimmy Sayder by I. Johney Fines and Jimmy Sayder accepting it as a mysterious something that made Desert Islands accessible at a moment's notice and a trifling ortlay, were round-eyed and attentive. And the culminating deformation from the master tell sharped and attentive. And the culminating deformation from the master that this event would be commemorated by a half holders, combined to make the constitution as population as executing to the simple school. **Something to the simple school of the policy of the po SPECIAL OFFER -Collections of Bulbs.

ns $500,000. 8500 000,000 if the business men are to believed. result of its deliberate judgment. It is for chogress and the American people to say what shall be done. The facts are tasy to ust.

The initiative in this great mailer lies with congress

ATTURNEY-GENERAL HUSS'S CIR-CULAR.

Men who had money to invest saw the The Law Brgarding Election Bets or Chardoons of that country has succeeded

Wagers,

General's Of fice. Austin 1888 -To 10

nev: Dan Sir -Og fafoims tion received in this depart ment from va rious sources it is quite certain that there have been committed many offenses against public policy by wagers and bets on the recent general election. The penal code provides that "If any person shall, whether before or after the happening of any public election held in temptation to intrigue for re-election and this state, wager or bet in any manner election he shall be fixed not less of any article of vaine; and any device the form of purchase or sale, or in any other form, made for the purpose of concealing the true intention of the parties is equally within the meaning of "bet" or

District

While the frequency of this class of off-ness and the apparent impunity with which they are publicly committed de mand special attention to them, vat

All persons who may have paid or offered to pay money to voters, or to election officers, or have offered or paid a brite to any person whatever for the purof the states for the purpose of procuring the accousa-

Your attention is respectfully called to these laws, the violations of which are Attorney-General.

Now it means a loss of A Chemical Scheme to Do away With the Humble Silkworm,

"It is by no means impossible," said a everybody seems to agree upon spontage Paterson silk manufacturar, "that artificously, is just what the chamber of commerce has officially recommended as the not of the ellaworms' labor. That of course is only a possiblity, and not a probability, but it is very probable that artificial methods will replace the fedious Every man, women and child in the and expensive means now employed to country has fest the effect of the present utilize the worms. It has for sometime been known that worn out silken fabrics can be utilized by putting them in a enpatagons from the silk itself, and saves the latter in a solution. This solution in he respon or used to plate other > thread. "Now, as I learn from France, Dr in making a purely artificial silk. He makes a rolution of nitro-cellulose, alcohol, ether, ferrous chloride, and tannic acid, in pleasy calculated proportions. and runs it from a reservoir through an exceedingly minute hole into a bath of water, acidulated with i of 1 per cent. of mono-hydrated nitric sei !. hardens in the water, and is dried in ho It is said that the thread can be readily dried, but I do not know what other valuable qualities it has."

Where the Day Begins.

Chambers' Journal According to the way in w. ch this arabgement is now carried out, the flux land that the new day dawns upon to Easter Island, about 230 miles weet of the coast of Chill, South America. is to say, July 2 creeks here within a few ours of the 1st, having broken on the imprican coast to the east, and the two ays run on alongside-the 21 in Easter Island and the places west, the 1st in a places on the American continent. may, therefore, realize this idea, that st 7:20 o'clock any morning of our lives in Great Beltain the next day is commending the world, and is to be found at this ittle island in the Pacific ccean, whence due course it will travel round to us. But to have thus the start of the world is not an unmilligated advantage to tabes islanders. Suppose one of them sails east to America, what is the result?

will find that they keep the day there under a different date, and he will have to reckon one day in his calendar twice over to put him elf right with their no-On the other hand, if an American crosses from east to west this wonderful magic line where the day begins, he will floo the dates in this fresh world are one in advance of him, and he must needs strike a day out of his calen-der to keep up with the times. The fact was curiously illustrated in the case of Magellan, the Portuguese captain, who sailed around the world, from cast to constitu- furnished money to another to be used west, in 1522, and having crossed the fac of "day's birth" in his wandering his calendar became, of course, a landing at home, that their Sabbath was falling on a Monday, they accused one another of tampering with the reckoning. It was not for some time that the true and simple explanation of the wonderful loss of time was discovered.

> Easy Way to Make Money. See the cash premium offered in THE GAZETTE's clubbing offer in this issue.

Subscribe for me Weekly GAZETTE.